

NEW YORK MANNERS.

New York Mail and Express. The fashion of employing musical and other talent for the entertainment of guests in private houses is growing very largely. Sometimes queer things happen at these entertainments. For example, one night last week one of the best known opera singers in town was invited to sing at an after dinner company in a beautiful mansion on Fifth avenue. Her engagement was to sing three songs, and the price paid was liberal indeed. Her arrival caused a flutter of excitement, for she is a beautiful woman. Her first song was received with rapturous applause. After an interval of about fifteen minutes she sang again and made another decided impression. Then came the third and last song. The singer was standing near the piano. The host was seated a dozen feet away. All was expectation. The singer added new glory to her fame by the exquisite rendering of a charming song, and while she was still bowing her acknowledgments of the applause the host was seen to rise, pull a check book out of his pocket, walk over to the piano and with a fountain pen make out a check for the lady's services. This he handed her in a most business-like way, bowed very politely, took her by the hand, thanked her for coming and begged her to retire at once. The singer was very much mortified at this treatment and haughtily returned the check, saying, "You may send me that to-morrow, I do not care for it now!"

"Allow me to escort you from the room," said the host. "You need not trouble," said the singer. "I was born and bred a lady, and I know when to retire, but there's no reason why you should insult me this way by asking me to leave your parlor almost before I have finished my song. You are said to be a gentleman, sir, but your actions lead me to believe that you are not."

Then she swept out of the room with tears running down her cheeks, and it took the host quite ten minutes to explain this to his guests.

CITY NOTES.

P. Robert Klute participated in four concerts during April.

Miss Ella McHale has started a singing class at East St. Louis.

Mrs. J. H. Lee has removed her studio of music to 3684 La-clede avenue.

Miss Julia B. Kroeger has a splendid and progressive class of piano pupils.

Mrs. Emilie Helmerichs is doing good work with her pupils in piano and voice.

George Enzinger's piano and organ pupils are making rapid progress under his careful teaching.

Paul Mori had a special programme for Easter service which included numbers for two cornets and two trombones.

Louis Hammerstein went around to see his friends on good Friday; for a wonder he had a day off.

Mrs. A. F. Newland whose studio is at 3300 Washington avenue, is one of the most careful and progressive teachers in the city.

Mrs. Louie A. Peebles is becoming widely sought after as a vocal teacher, and her splendid method of teaching as practiced by the well-known Mme. Petipas, is showing magnificent results.

LAURENT BRUN.

Among the well known and successful musicians of St. Louis is Laurent Brun, the Clarinetist. Mr. Brun was born in the year 1837 at Avignon, France. He began vocal lessons at twelve years of age and developed a good tenor voice. At the age of twenty he went to the conservatory at Avignon, having previously taken up the study of the clarinet. The stage became the object of the young tenor's aim, but his parents deeming it a disgrace for their son to become an actor, he was obliged to bid adieu to his romantic hopes and turn all his attention to the clarinet which he played with great skill.

After spending nearly three years at the conservatory he went to Versailles where he joined a regiment as clarinetist, becoming second leader. He remained fifteen years in the regiment, going through the German war from which he still bears a bullet mark on his hand. He was offered a position on a war ship at Nice, which he accepted and landed at Boston where he secured his discharge. Receiving a telegram from the Marine band at Washington offering him the position of clarinet soloist, he accepted it and remained at Washington over a year. He then took an engagement with Clara Louise Kellogg for a season after which he came to St. Louis and was immediately offered a position at the Grand Opera House under Mr. A. Waldauer.

Since that time Mr. Brun has played with the greatest success in all the principal halls in the city. He is an artist of undoubted ability and his arrangement of popular concert numbers notably that of Carnival of Venice have always charmed the public.

CITY NOTES.

Charles H. Galloway has been quite in demand for concerts.

Louis Retter's latest work in composition is a series of Kindergarten pieces.

Miss Gertrude Lynn of West Olive street, sails for Europe on the 11th of May, where she intends pursuing her musical studies.

C. I. Wynne, the popular music dealer, has been busy answering congratulations upon the advent of a new son and heir.

G. Neubert, director of the Philharmonic concerts, Belleville, Illinois, is very successful both in concert work and piano teaching.

Mrs. Lucy B. Ralston's work with her pupils is most comprehensive and as a result they are well grounded in different branches of music.

Knaeble's Orchestra at the Hagan Opera House is giving very popular selections. It made a big hit with "La Mozelle" waltz by Mrs. B. McNair Ilgenfritz.

Miss Nellie Paulding and her pupils gave a piano recital at her residence, 3032 Easton avenue, on the 22d ult. A varied and carefully selected programme was well rendered.

Miss Clara Stubblefield is kept very busy with a large class of pupils and her position at the boarding school conducted by the Episcopalian sisterhood of the Good Shepherd.

Sev. Rob. Sauter, the well-known teacher of violin, is fitting pupils for the front rank in the profession. His work in the past is evidenced by many now among the foremost of our violinists.

Alfred G. Robyn shared in the honors achieved by Lillian Russell at the Grand Opera House, as his new ballad which Miss Russell sang was one of the features of her engagement there.

Mrs. Kate J. Brainard, who has usually spent her summers at her country home in Iowa, having recently sold it, will purchase a cottage in one of the pretty St. Louis suburban towns.

Robert Nelson the vocal teacher has enrolled among his pupils, Miss Kathryn Butler, daughter of Ed. Butler, and Sam Black, the basso. Miss Rebecca Levy, an alto pupil is meeting with much success.

Miss Cora J. Fish assisted by some of her pupils, and Mrs. A. Waite Perkins, Mr. Carl Haefner, vocalists and Mrs. E. S. Fish, pianist, gave a very successful concert at her residence, 428A St Ferdinand avenue.

MAJOR AND MINOR.

Madame Louise Natali will shortly set sail for Europe.

Every piano student, while young, should become familiar with intervals and their inversion; for it greatly facilitates the reading of music.

Julia Rive-King's popular waltz, "On Blooming Meadows" was played at the American composers' concert given by the National School of Music at Chicago, on the 27th ult.

John C. Haines, the genial head of the firm of Oliver Ditson Company stopped over a day in St. Louis on his return trip from San Francisco where he spent some time in recreation.

The American Art Journal closes its twenty-ninth year of good work and celebrates the event with a special souvenir number of great interest. We congratulate the American Art Journal and its able editor, Mr. Wm. M. Thoms.

Paderewski has left us only to return. He will be in this country again next season for a series of sixty concerts under the management of Mr. C. F. Tretbar.

Shurtleff College gave a pupil's recital on the 21st ult. A good programme was presented. "Gondellied" piano solo by Louis Conrath was excellently played by Miss Leila Cook. Mr. Wm. Armstrong is doing able work as his pupils evidence.

Charlton Smith gave a piano recital at the residence of C. G. Phares at Oxford, Ind. The programme was prefaced by a biographical sketch of E. R. Kroeger, and included "Fantasia Polonaise" and "Look out upon the Stars" by the same composer.

Mrs. E. D. Marsh's pupils gave their fourth annual concert at the Grand Opera House, Danville Ill. Features of the programme were the "Forest Bird Waltz" duet, by Carl Sidus, played by twelve hands, or four pianos, and "Alpine Storm," C. Kunkel, played as a trio.

Emil Liebling, the eminent Chicago pianist, gave one of his artistic and enjoyable concerts at Columbia, Mo., recently, and had the splendid assistance of the celebrated Kimball piano. We think St. Louisans can enjoy a first-class piano recital and would like Mr. Liebling to bear this in mind the next time he crosses the border.

F. X. Barada, the popular and enterprising real estate dealer formerly of the Booth-Barada Co., has founded the new firm of Barada-Ghio Real Estate Co., with a paid up capital of $100,000. Mr. Barada is in step with the times and is one of the best posted and experienced operators in real estate. Jas. C. Ghio is vice-president, and Wm. J. Hruska, secretary and treasurer.

When you want a good satisfactory umbrella, or a neat parasol to match, there is one house can suit you—Namendorf Bros., 314 N. Sixth street, opposite Barrs. This firm never loses a patron, because it aims to give just what is wanted. Manufacturing their own goods, Namendorf Bros. are sustaining a reputation that no other house in its line in the west has equalled.

SCROFULOUS TAIN

Is hereditary and one of the most prolific sources of disease. It causes glandular swellings, sores, tumors, ulcers, catarrh, hip and spinal disease, and consumption. To eradicate this terrible poison from the system, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the universally popular specific.

Skin Diseases, Catarrh

"I have tested the efficacy of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in an aggravated case of scrofula, six bottles producing the desired effect."—J. H. Miller, M. D. and Druggist, Cross Hill, S. C.

"My wife was, for many years, a sufferer from tumors on her neck. Nothing did her any good, until we tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which made a cure."—W. S. Martin, Burning Springs, W. Va.

ERADICATED BY

"For many years I was afflicted with scrofulous running sores, which, at last, became so bad, the doctors advised amputating one of my legs to save my life. I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla and soon saw an improvement. After using about two dozen bottles, the sores were healed. I continue to take a few bottles of this medicine each year, for my blood, and am no longer troubled with sores. I have tried other reputed blood-purifiers, but none does so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—D. A. Robinson, Neal, Kans.

"My husband's mother, who was afflicted with scrofulous consumption, was cured by the use of six bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Mrs. Julia Shepard, Kendall, Mich.

"My son—now fifteen years of age—was troubled for a long time with catarrh, in its worst form, through the effects of which his blood became poisoned. About a year ago he began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, has taken seven bottles of it, and is now entirely well."—D. P. Kerr, Big Spring, Ohio.

"We have a large sale of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. One of our doctors is now prescribing it in scrofulous cases and it always gives satisfaction."—Strickler & Boorse, Sterling, Ill.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is rapidly curing my niece of scrofula."—Ephraim Caffall, P. M., Losee, Utah.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.

Has cured others, will cure you.

A TREAT FOR YOURSELF.

OUR readers will notice the cut of a piano stool on page 41 of the REVIEW. It is the finest piano stool made in the world. It is used and preferred by the great pianists, Rubinstein, Rosenthal, Rive-King and others. It is a beautiful piece of furniture and an ornament to any parlor. The reduced price is $12.37. We offer it as a premium for only eight subscribers. You can have your choice in walnut, ebonized, oak or mahogany.

The stool is made by the great house of C. A. Cook & Co., State Street, Cambridgeport, Mass. It is the strongest and best piano seat in use and affords special comfort to teachers and concert givers. The work and material are guaranteed to be first-class in all particulars. We invite you to call upon your dealer and examine the merits of this stool. Its high cost may prevent its being kept by smaller dealers, but it may be seen at all large music houses. As the number of stools we offer will be limited, begin at once to send in your subscribers. Send one or two now and the rest as soon as you can. This is the best and most liberal premium ever offered.

THE RIVAL MINSTRELS.

Haroun al Raschid loved his harem's maids;
He loved his gardens, with their winding shades;
He loved to watch his crystal fountains play;
He loved his horses, and his courtiers gay;
He loved all royal sports that please a king,
But most he loved to hear his minstrel sing.

And so it happened that the fame had brought
Two rival singers to the caliph's court.
Who pleased him best, full well each minstrel knew,
Would be proclaimed the greater of the two.
So well they pleased him that they found him loath
To choose between them, for he loved them both.

"Let all the nation judge," at length said he;
"Who pleases best my people, pleases me."
Through all the land the rival poets sung;
Their names and music were on every tongue,
Until at last they never reached a door,
Where fame had not sung all their songs before.

Ben Olaf sang of deeds the caliph wrought—
The riches and the splendors of his court—
The mighty warriors every nation boasts,
The armies vanquished by the prophet, hosts—
How Islam's valor was beloved, and feared;
And, when he finished, listening thousands cheered.

Mustapha's songs were all of simpler things;
Forgotten was the pride of earthly kings.
He sang to them of home, and truth, and love—
How Allah watched his children from above,
Close to their hearts the poet's music crept;
And, when he finished, all the people wept.

For though Ben Olaf charmed them with his arts,
It was Mustapha's songs that reached their hearts.

—James G. Burnett, in Harper's Magazine.

THE EVILS OF FAVORITISM.

A thorough study of individual authors is indispensable, yet it may prove highly dangerous; for men seldom possess comprehensiveness of judgment, indefatigability, and largeness of mind. Hence, they are far too eager to be great in a confined sphere, and affect a vast importance for their own narrow views. And this is a mischief that exists, unfortunately to a large extent, in music. Handelian decline acquaintance with Mozart; the admirers of Mozart do likewise by Handel; followers of Bach ignore Marcello; and thus the foibles of each favorite come to be regarded as paragons, blind admiration being less troublesome than thoughtful criticism. Even style is not beyond the reach of this folly. It would be every bit as sensible to dispute on the respective beauties of crimson and purple, or blue and green, as upon the question whether a love song is more beautiful than a bravado one, or a soft plaintive air than a wild and vehement one. Nevertheless it always happens, after a miscellaneous performance, that instead of thanking God for providing them with all the forms of beauty, some folks worry themselves to death as to which piece, after all, when maturely considered and minutely examined, and probed to its depths, is strictly the best; and then perhaps are much injured if others see no point in their doggedness.—Thibaut.

MISS CARRIE VOLLMAR.

Miss Carrie Vollmar, the well known music teacher of the South End was born in St. Louis. She is the daughter of Mr.

Geo. Vollmar, well known during his life-time as a prominent and successful business man. Miss Vollmar comes of a talented family, her sister, Miss Julia Vollmar being a successful singer, and her cousin, Louis Oesterly a distinguished piano teacher in New York, while Otto Oesterly, another cousin is first flutist in the Thomas Orchestra. Miss Vollmar early evinced remarkable musical talent and began her musical studies at the age of seven. She had as teachers, A. Willhartitz, her cousin Louis Oesterly, and R. S. Poppen, all thorough musicians. Miss Vollmar's diligence and ambition have brought her recognition as a splendid teacher. From the start, her classes have been exceedingly large and her work thoroughly appreciated in many ways. Every year, her pupils give a recital, of which the principal features are numbers for two pianos executed in a manner that reflects the highest credit upon the teacher and proves her very conscientious and painstaking. Her pupils range in age from six to forty-four years.

During her ten years' work, Miss Vollmar has trained many pupils who are now teaching with splendid success. For the past seven years she has been organist of the Bethel M. E. Church, her work there giving every satisfaction. Miss Vollmar is a hard worker, unostentatious in manner and of a most amiable disposition.

MUSICAL STYLE.

Music as well as literature has its elements, its syntax, its rhetorics and its different styles. In the art of composition, we mean by style the qualities and different means of execution which each master brings forth, and the manner in which they convey their ideas. Style is not genius, but it helps to bring it out. Genius creates, while style is the art of correctly interpreting. Genius gives life, style gives form. The character of genius is invention, that of style to cleverly render.

Style consists in the art of choosing with good taste one's ideas, to give them with clearness, observing, however, their just proportions. Elegance, energy, strength, etc., etc., are some of the qualities of style.

Inspiration is spontaneous; it is a flash of lightning which sparkles out of genius, while the acquirement of the beauties of style takes long and careful culture. Style is clear, colored and brilliant, if the composer possesses an expansive imagination, great lucidity in the manner of formulating his idea. On the contrary it will become heavy and devoid of color if the musical writer is not inventive and clever enough to prevent his ideas from being.

An elegant turn, a certain way of phrasing, gives a particular character to the works of masters who are in the habit of using them. It is like a familiar language; it is what we might call the manner, the style of the master.

If the style is more particular in the domain of creation, we will not deny the fine qualities of artists, who, while faithfully interpreting the works of masters show nevertheless their own individuality. The study of music, as well as all arts, may be governed by different methods. All celebrated composers and virtuosos aim to create a school by the style of their works.

Genius does not follow any guide, yet all masters, even the greatest, have begun by imitation before tracing a new route. The influence of the first teaching, the great examples of the chiefs of schools always direct the first attempts of masters, which in their turn will create new forms.

To charm, to excite the emotions, to interest, such must be the aim of the composer and virtuoso. The charm in style depends on its natural simplicity, its elegance its grace in melody, its originality, its harmonious proportions in the musical speech, and, above all, truth in expression and in accent given in characteristic pieces.

In passionate and dramatic passages, the player, while giving to the phrase all its agitation and accent, which represents the action of the soul, must use a great deal of discretion from the too quick transition of loud to soft. In employing those effects too often it becomes as tiresome to a delicate ear as it would be to a judge in painting who could constantly see nothing but opposing colors.

The art consists of well observing the graduation of accents, sonority and movement to vary the shades indefinitely according to what you wish to express. The real talent is to know how to employ those varieties of accents at the proper place and time, without, however, losing sight of the general style of the piece; for all those details will help to the general effect of preserving unity in its variety.

The beauty of style depends on the nobleness of the inspiration. The merit of expression and style in execution is to render truthfully without any exaggerated accent or overmade sentiment, the idea of the master.

The great art in execution is to know how to render, in the proper sentiment which characterizes each master, the various turns, the expression of their style, and that in a simple manner and without affectation, with that natural way that is the perfection of art.

Intelligence and sentiment united with good method and a wise progression in study, will give all those precious qualities to the pupil. He will acquire grace, elegance and a sympathetic and noble style.—Lavallee.

GREAT PIANISTS COMPARED.

Rubinstein is even more fond, tender, and caressing in his playing of Bach, bringing out all imaginable beautiful shades of tone-color in his rendering of those works. And why should this be otherwise, since Bach's compositions are so full of exquisite melody? Surely such emotional strains should receive a loving and musical rendering. As Moscheles played Bach a half century ago, and as Rubinstein played him later on, so does Paderewski play him now—with an added grace and color which put these great contrapuntal creations in the most charming frames. It is great, deep musical playing combined with calm, quiet repose and great breadth of style. Paderewski has an advantage over Rubinstein, however, in the fact that he is always master of his resources and possesses power of complete self-control. This remarkably symmetrical balance is entirely temperamental, and may be discerned in the well-shaped contour of Paderewski's head, his steady gaze, and his supreme command of the economies of movement. In Rubinstein there is an excess of the emotional, and while at times he reaches the highest possible standard, his impulsive nature and lack of self-restraint are continually in his way, frequently causing him to rush ahead with such impetuosity as to anticipate his climax, and, having no reserve force to call into action, disaster is sure to follow. He does not economize his strength to good advantage, but uses up his power too soon. Comparisons are not always profitable, but may be permitted in mild form on account of the instruction they convey. Thus, of five prominent pianists, in Liszt we find the intellectual-emotional temperament, while Rubinstein has the emotional in such excess that he is rarely able to bridle his impetuosity. Paderewski may be classified as emotional-intellectual—a rare and happy blending of the two temperaments—and Tausig was very much upon the same plane, while Von Bülow has but little of the emotional, and overbalances decidedly on the intellectual side. There must always be two general classes of pianists—those whose interpretations change with every mood, while the playing always remains poetic, fervent, artistic, and inspired, because it is impossible for them to do violence to the musical nature which they have received by the grace of God, and others whose playing lacks warmth and abandon, notwithstanding the fact that it is careful, conscientious, artistic, and in the highest degree finished. The performances of the latter are invariably uniform, and are exact to such a degree that one can anticipate with great accuracy each accent, emphasis, nuance, and turning of phrase from beginning to end. Of these classes Rubinstein and Bülow present good illustrations in contrast.—Century.

Concert players looking for a beautiful and effective piano piece should have the "Alpine Storm," by Charles Kunkel, price $1.00, or "Southern Jollifications," a typical plantation scene, by the same author, price 60 cents.

In America, music study has wonderfully enlarged its domain, while it seems that constantly greater numbers are coming into it. The almost feverish progress we have made in the few years past, shows how much power we are gathering from it. We must now think of directing this power in the best way. It gives one a fullness of hope for our future to know that daily there increases that class of students who are unwilling to spend life merely to please, winning at the same time a decidedly comfortable living thereby. It bodes well for us that here and there are some who determine to study the art of tone as a fine art, to spend years seriously in it, to seek out for the common good those delicate threads of connection that bind art to art, and make the family one. If for a few years past it has been a promising sign that young men and women undertake the study of music as an actual employment, worthy of their best thought, it is now even a better sign that there are others striving to understand art in its relation to use in life by patiently seeking out its tendency as shown in the development of human thought. No longer as a flower alone, but as a blossoming plant of healthy growth, is it to be regarded.—Ez.

Beauty often depends on plumpness; so does comfort; so does health. If you get thin, there is something wrong, though you may feel no sign of it:

Thinness itself is a sign; sometimes the first sign; sometimes not.

The way to get back plumpness is by CAREFUL LIVING, which sometimes includes the use of Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

Let us send you—free—a little book which throws much light on all these subjects.

The artistic use of the pedal for the proper rendition of this variation is of the greatest importance.

The pedal should be used only to sustain the notes of the melody (large type.) To do this release the pedal precisely when the chord is struck lifting all the fingers except those on the melody notes now before lifting the fingers from the melody notes employ the pedal again which will continue the singing of the melody and enable the hands to be lifted to strike the chord following.

This musical score is for the song "The Rose Tree" from the opera "The Mikado". It is written for voice and piano. The score is in 2/4 time and consists of two systems. The first system includes a vocal line with a melodic line and a piano accompaniment. The piano part features a prominent arpeggiated figure in the right hand, marked with a "20" and a "Ped." (pedal) instruction. The second system continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment, with the piano part featuring a more complex rhythmic pattern in the right hand, marked with a "Ped." instruction. The score is written in G major and includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings.

Moderato ♩ - 72.

The musical score is for a piece titled "Moderato 7-12". It is written for piano and features a complex, rhythmic melody in the right hand and a supporting bass line in the left hand. The right hand part is characterized by rapid, repeated eighth-note patterns, often with slurs and accents. The left hand part consists of chords and single notes, with some sections marked "l.h." (left hand). The score includes dynamic markings such as f (forte) and p (piano), and articulation marks like slurs and accents. The tempo is indicated as "Moderato". The score is divided into four measures, each with a distinct melodic and harmonic structure. The first measure starts with a forte dynamic and a rapid eighth-note pattern. The second measure continues the pattern with a slight change in rhythm. The third measure features a piano dynamic and a more complex rhythmic structure. The fourth measure concludes the piece with a final chord and a repeat sign.

The musical score is divided into two main sections: sempre leggiero. and Grandioso.

sempre leggiero. This section begins with a tempo marking of 60 beats per minute. It consists of four systems of music. Each system has a piano (ppp) dynamic marking. The first system contains measures 25 and 26. The second system contains measures 31 and 30. The third system contains measures 25 and 27. The fourth system contains measures 26 and 27. The piano part features complex arpeggiated figures with fingerings 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. The right hand part features a melodic line with fingerings 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. The section ends with a cres. (crescendo) marking and a ff (fortissimo) dynamic marking.

Grandioso. This section begins with a ff (fortissimo) dynamic marking. It consists of four systems of music. Each system has a ff dynamic marking. The first system contains measures 27 and 27. The second system contains measures 27 and 27. The third system contains measures 27 and 27. The fourth system contains measures 27 and 27. The piano part features complex arpeggiated figures with fingerings 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. The right hand part features a melodic line with fingerings 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. The section ends with a ff dynamic marking.

At the bottom of the page, the number 808 - 11 is printed.

This page of musical notation is for a piano piece, likely a study or a short composition. It features complex arpeggiated figures in the right hand, often spanning multiple octaves, and more rhythmic accompaniment in the left hand. The notation includes various dynamic markings such as ff (fortissimo), fff (fortississimo), and rit. (ritardando). There are also performance instructions like a tempo. and accl. e con fuoco. (accelerando e con fuoco). The piece is divided into several systems, each with a grand staff (treble and bass clef). The notation is dense and technical, typical of advanced piano literature.

FINALE.

NO. II.

This musical score is for the Finale, No. II, measures 88 through 111. It is written for piano in a key with two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a 4/4 time signature. The tempo is marked as quarter note = 88. The score is divided into four systems, each containing two staves (treble and bass clef). The first system begins with a ppp dynamic marking. The music features complex, rapid sixteenth-note passages in the right hand, often with triplets and slurs. The left hand provides a steady accompaniment with eighth and sixteenth notes. Pedal points are indicated by asterisks and the word "Ped." below the bass staff in measures 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100, 102, 104, 106, 108, 110, and 111. Some measures have a "V" symbol above the bass staff. Measure numbers 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100, 102, 104, 106, 108, 110, and 111 are written below the bass staff. The final measure (111) ends with a do (C) note and a cresc. marking.

This page of musical notation is for a piano piece, featuring six systems of staves. The notation is complex, with many beamed sixteenth and thirty-second notes, suggesting a fast tempo. The key signature has one flat (B-flat). The dynamics range from ff (fortissimo) to fff (fortississimo). Performance instructions include Ped. (pedal) and rit. (ritardando). The piece concludes with a final fff dynamic marking.

System 1: ff. Pedal markings with asterisks. Eighth-note groupings marked with '8' and dashed lines. V₂ markings in the bass line.

System 2: Continuation of the fast rhythmic pattern. Pedal markings with asterisks. Eighth-note groupings marked with '8' and dashed lines. V₂ markings in the bass line.

System 3: fff. Continuation of the fast rhythmic pattern. Pedal markings with asterisks. Eighth-note groupings marked with '8' and dashed lines. V₂ markings in the bass line.

System 4: rit. (ritardando). The tempo slows down. Pedal markings with asterisks. Eighth-note groupings marked with '8' and dashed lines. V₂ markings in the bass line.

System 5: a tempo. (return to tempo). Continuation of the fast rhythmic pattern. Pedal markings with asterisks. Eighth-note groupings marked with '8' and dashed lines. V₂ markings in the bass line.

System 6: Final system. Continuation of the fast rhythmic pattern. Pedal markings with asterisks. Eighth-note groupings marked with '8' and dashed lines. V₂ markings in the bass line. Ends with fff and a final chord.

Moritz Moszkowski. Op. 12. No 3.

Con moto. $\text{♩} = 80$.

Secondo.

The musical score is written for piano and bass. It begins with a treble clef and a key signature of two sharps (D major). The time signature is 3/8. The tempo is marked 'Con moto' with a quarter note equal to 80 beats per minute. The piece is in the second ending ('Secondo').

The first system of music (measures 1-8) starts with a piano (pp) dynamic. It features a series of eighth-note patterns in the right hand, often grouped in triplets. The left hand provides a steady accompaniment of eighth notes. Pedal markings are present at the end of measures 2, 4, 6, and 8.

The second system (measures 9-18) continues the melodic and harmonic development. It includes a section marked 'un poco più' (a little more) starting at measure 11. The right hand plays chords and moving lines, while the left hand continues with rhythmic accompaniment. Pedal markings are used throughout this system as well.

The musical score for 'The Rose Tree' is presented in two systems. The first system consists of a single staff with a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp (F#), and a 3/4 time signature. The melody is written in a simple, folk-like style. The second system consists of two staves: a treble staff and a bass staff. The treble staff continues the melody, while the bass staff provides a simple harmonic accompaniment. The key signature remains one sharp, and the time signature is 3/4. The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, and bar lines. There are also some performance markings like 'Ped.' (pedal) and a flower symbol.

Musical score for "The Rose Tree" in G major, 2/4 time. The score is written for a single melodic line on a five-line staff. The key signature has one sharp (F#). The melody consists of a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, often beamed together. There are several measures with triplets, indicated by a '3' over the notes. The piece ends with a double bar line.

The musical score is for a piano introduction and a waltz section. The key signature is D major (two sharps: F# and C#). The time signature is 3/4. The score is written for two staves, Treble and Bass. The introduction consists of a series of chords and single notes, with a 'Ped.' (pedal) marking at the end. The waltz section begins with a series of chords and single notes, with a 'Ped.' (pedal) marking at the end. The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings.

The musical score is for a piano exercise in D major, 6/8 time, marked Allegro molto. It consists of five systems of two staves each. The first system is marked with a piano (p) dynamic. The second system includes 'cres.' and 'dim.' markings. The third system also includes 'cres.' and 'dim.' markings. The fourth system includes a 'cres.' marking. The fifth system includes a 'dim.' marking. The score is heavily annotated with fingerings (numbers 1-5) and articulation marks (accents, slurs).

- (A) An excellent study for the strengthening of the fingers, especially the weaker ones. Extensions and contractions must not interfere with a quiet carriage of the hand. Equality of touch with rounded fingers must always be observed.

First system of musical notation, measures 1-4. The music is in G major (one sharp) and 3/4 time. The right hand features a continuous eighth-note pattern with various fingering numbers (1-5) above the notes. The left hand plays a bass line with eighth notes and rests, including a triplet of eighth notes in measure 2. The system begins with a forte (f) dynamic marking.

Second system of musical notation, measures 5-8. The right hand continues the eighth-note pattern. The left hand has a triplet of eighth notes in measure 5. Measure 7 includes a res. (resonance) marking. The system begins with a piano (pp) dynamic marking.

Third system of musical notation, measures 9-12. The right hand continues the eighth-note pattern. The left hand features a series of half notes with a dotted quarter note, with a ossia. (ossia) marking in measure 9. The system begins with a piano (p) dynamic marking.

Fourth system of musical notation, measures 13-16. The right hand continues the eighth-note pattern. The left hand features a series of half notes with a dotted quarter note. Measure 14 includes a cres. (crescendo) marking. The system begins with a piano (p) dynamic marking.

Fifth system of musical notation, measures 17-20. The right hand continues the eighth-note pattern. The left hand features a series of half notes with a dotted quarter note. Measure 18 includes a cres. (crescendo) marking. The system begins with a piano (p) dynamic marking.

The musical score is written for piano in G major (one sharp) and 2/4 time. It consists of five systems of music. The first system is marked with a 'B' in the left hand. The second system continues the piece. The third system features a 'dim.' (diminuendo) marking in the left hand. The fourth system features a 'cres.' (crescendo) marking in the left hand. The fifth system concludes the piece with a final chord. The right hand part is a continuous melody with many slurs and fingering numbers. The left hand part is a more complex accompaniment with many slurs and fingering numbers.

(B) The part of the left hand, which is always of sufficient importance for separate study, demands here special and careful practice. Before playing in conjunction with the right hand, the requisite lightness and accuracy of the left hand part should be insured.

(A) To play this study with elasticity and elegance, lightness of arm and wrist must be maintained throughout.

(B) Do not mistake the groups of the right hand for triplets; the rest must receive only its value, that of a thirty-second and not of a sixteenth note.

The musical score consists of five systems of staves. The first system shows a treble and bass staff with a melodic line in the treble and a supporting bass line. The second system includes a fp (fortissimo piano) dynamic marking and an ossia. (alternative) section. The third system features a simili. (similar) marking and a dolce. (dolce) marking. The fourth system includes a simili. marking and a pp (pianissimo) dynamic marking. The fifth system ends with a ff (fortissimo) dynamic marking and a Ped. (pedal) instruction.

(E) Give the dotted notes their full value.

MAJOR AND MINOR.

P. G. Anton, the well-known piano dealer, has removed to his new location on the Northwest corner of Twelfth and Olive street. Mr. Anton has one of the most select stock of pianos in the city, all finished in the latest styles. Inspection is cordially invited.

M. A. Gilsinn gave the opera "The Two Cadis" with great success at the Pickwick on the 28th ult. The cast was made up of Miss Rosemary Conroy as Annie, Angelo Gilsinn as Hassan, Chas. T. Wippen as Ben Kush and James Simmons as Ben Mush.

"Woods Notes Wild" is the title of an interesting book on the music of birds by Simeon Peace Cheney. The author of "Wood Notes Wild," was a music teacher for many years, and, being an ardent lover of nature, devoted much time to the observation of the music of the birds in different parts of the United States. This observation convinced Mr. Cheney that all music in nature, animate and inanimate, is worthy of study and imitation, that it gives out charming tones, and forms pleasing melodic strains, using all the intervals of the major and minor scales, in perfection of intonation and finish of execution. The author supports this statement by giving the songs of many birds in musical notation on the staff. This very valuable book is published by Lee and Shepard, Boston, Mass.

UNDESERVED PRAISE.

What is the use of always letting on that we are great men? What avails it when good friends place us on stilts upon which we are unable to support ourselves unassisted? How many have regretted that they have received homage before it was due? Only to those who know how to make use of blame, can praise be salutary; that is to say, to him who, spite of all, does not neglect his studies; who, without wrapping himself up egotistically in himself, keeps his admiration fresh for the different, and to him foreign kinds of mastership which he finds in other men. Such an artist long preserves his own youth and strength.—Schumann.

A Teacher's Concert was given at Lindenwood College Hall on the 8th ult., in which Misses Lizzie W. Blackman, Bessie C. Merz, Helen Chrysop, Agnes Gray and Mrs. M. L. Winfield participated. Among the numbers was a quartet "Venezia Serenade" Gruenfeld arranged by the players, Miss Merz, piano, Miss Gray, first violin, Miss Stonebraker, second violin, Miss Blackman, cello.

Miss Nellie Strong gave a piano recital at her music studio, 603 N. Jefferson avenue, on the 26th ult., assisted by Mr. C. Humphrey. The recital was a success in every respect. Miss Strong's friends turned out "en masse" and were deservedly enthusiastic. The programme was as follows:
1. Sonata, Op. 31, No. 1, Allegro vivace—Adagio—Rondo, Beethoven. 2. (a) Moment Mus'l, (b) Impromptu, Op. 35, Nos. 2 and 4, Moszkowski, (c) Toccata, Op. 254, Mayer. 3. Song—Ade-laide, Beethoven. 4. Humoreske, Op. 20, (a) Simple, light and rapid, (b) hurried, (c) tender, intermezzo, (d) with warmth, lively, (e) with pomp—close, Schumann. 5. (a) Etude, Op. 25, No. 1, (b) Nocturne, Op. 62, No. 2, (c) Waltz, Op. 42, Chopin. 6. Songs, (a) The Parting, Hartmann; (b) The Riddle, Rubinstein. 7. (a) Three Tone Poems, Op. 32, Nos. 2, 3 and 4, MacDowell; (b) Gavotte and Musette, Op. 1, D'Albert. 8. (a) Spinning Song, (Wagner's Flying Dutchman), (b) Rhapsodie, No. 13, Liszt.

“La Mode”..... 15c 1 05

La Mode de Paris is filled with the latest and best Parisian styles.

Album des Modes is also an elegant Parisian publication, many ladies giving it the preference. Examination will show these two books to be without an equal as fashion journals. They are the very Mirrors of Parisian Styles.

La Mode is intended chiefly for family use, and is the best book ever offered at the money. Sample copies will be mailed to you at single copy prices, if there is any difficulty in obtaining them from your newsdealer.

MAJOR AND MINOR.

Go to A. P. Erker & Bro., opticians, 617 Olive street, if you want goods that can be depended upon. They have your choice in spectacles, eye-glasses, opera-glasses, drawing instruments, kodaks, and everything a first-class house should keep.

Arthur Friedheim, the celebrated pianist, is in jail in New York charged with murder. In a drunken frenzy he struck an old man, whose death immediately followed. It is very seldom that the musical profession is made so lamentably prominent.

Rubinstein has by no means decided whether he will go to America or not. He approves of the contract at $2,500 per night, but prefers to wait till mid-summer before giving a final decision. It is rumored that the great pianist will shortly marry a pupil.

The T. Bahnsen piano has earned the highest praise from musicians and all who have used it. The T. Bahnsen piano represents the highest art of the piano maker—and is offered at a price within the reach of all who would like to have a first class instrument. Warerooms, 1520 Olive street.

The opera and Patti seasons have resulted in a net profit to Abbey, Schoeffel & Gran of not far from $100,000. There will be a musical and operatic festival in the Madison Square garden in May, and Adelina Patti will appear with her own company, a chorus of 1000 and an orchestra of 100.

G. A. Zeiser & Co., of 304 Olive street do fine work in designing, wood engraving and photo engraving for all printing purposes. They make original designs and pen drawings for lithographers and photo engravers, giving personal attention to all work. They are known as most capable and skilled artists.

M. Shaughnessy & Co., the well-known bottlers of the finest brands of whiskies, the "Club House" bourbon, and "Shaughnessy Pure" rye malt whisky have removed from 402 N. Main street to 419 N. Sixth street, where they have fitted up one of the finest offices in the city. They have a stock as well, of the choicest and purest brands of imported wines, liquors, and ale. Their central location is of great convenience to their city and visiting patrons.

Signor Mascagni has just completed a new one-act opera, entitled "Zanetto," which he proposes shall be played in the same programme as the "Cavalleria Rusticana." The two words are totally different in style, and thus it is hoped they will supply the necessary element of contrast. "Zanetto," which is a purely lyrical opera, is based upon Coppée's delicate little sketch, "Le Passant," which Mme. Sarah Bernhart has already made popular.

Beethoven has shown the depth of music, its majesty, its immortality; Mendelssohn its elegance of form; Händel its solemnity and grandeur; Mozart its wondrous grace and sweetness; Haydn its purity, freshness and simplicity; Schumann its romance; Chopin its poetry and tender melancholy; Schubert its richness of melody; Bach its massive foundations; Berlioz its grotesqueness and supernaturalism; Liszt and Wagner its poetical idealism.—Upton.

A liberal act of courteous benevolence showing that Paderevski thoroughly appreciates the effort of those who aided largely in making his tour a success, was in his disposition of the receipts, amounting to $8,600 of his last concert in Brooklyn. This sum he divided between his efficient secretary, Mr. Gerlitz, and the traveling manager of his American tour, Mr. J. C. Fryer. To the tuner who has kept his piano in order he presented $300, and gave $300 to the men who moved the instrument at this notable concert.

The program of the Bayreuth festival this year has been announced. There will be twenty performances of Wagnerian music-dramas covering a period from Thursday, July 21, to Sunday, August 21. Of these "Parsifal" which begins and ends the season receives eight; "Tristan" four; "Tannhauser," four; and "Die Meistersinger," four. The Niebelungen trilogy is apparently left out in the cold this year. Following are the dates:

"Parsifal" performances—July 21 and 28, August 1, 4, 8, 11, 15 and 21.

"Tristan"—July 22 and 29, August 5 and 20.

"Die Meistersinger"—July 25 and 31, August 14 and 18.

"Tannhauser"—July 24, August 7, 12 and 17.

The Eyes of the World will be upon Chicago for the next three years at least, and it will be her own fault if she does not continue to attract attention. As manufacturers of Musical Instruments we have tried to do our part toward making our city known and with such lines as

THE WASHBURN GUITARS, MANDOLINS AND ZITHERS, THE LYON & HEALY HARP,
THE PELOUBET CHURCH ORGAN,
THE LYON & HEALY PARLOR ORGAN,
THE "STAR" BANJO

and other first-class instruments we may rest our claims to consideration.

If the reader is interested in musical instruments of any kind, a cordial invitation is extended to visit our warerooms when in Chicago, or write us for information. We publish fifty-three (53) separate catalogues describing everything known to music and will be pleased to mail any of them on application.
